RESOLUTIONS

To provide means for securing sufficient funds for the erection of fire engine houses.

Whereas, due to the growth of the outlying residential districts of the city of Columbus; and

Whereas, owing to such growth a further need of fire engine houses is necessary for the protection rightfully due these communities; and

Whereas, surveys made by the division of fire and others, plainly show that additional fire engine houses are necessary for the protection of lives and property of all citizens of the city of Columbus; and

Whereas, this council on March 17, 1941, passed the necessary legislation to provide for a settlement of the so-
